

Kentucky Department for Public Health First HIA Project - Evaluation

HIA of Proposed KY Worksite Wellness Tax Credit

Teresa Lovely MS CHES
Business Coordinator Worksite Wellness

Potential Impact of Worksite Wellness Tax Credit

Worksite	Employees	Families	Community	Kentucky
-Increase number of comprehensive wellness programs	-Healthier lifestyles	-Healthier lifestyles	-Healthier members	-Healthier citizens & workforce
-Role model for community	-Role model for families	-Improved family And community dynamics	-Improved well-being and productivity	-Stronger businesses/Attract new businesses

Barbara Miller, an industrial nurse at Legum Aluminum, checks employee Michael Blake's blood pressure in an examining room at the company's health and wellness center.

Cabinet for Health and Family Services

(HIA) of a Kentucky Worksite Wellness Tax Credit for employers leads to the introduction of a bill in the 2012 Kentucky legislative session on March 1, 2012

Although the bill has not passed yet much continues to result from this HIA

WKU Department of Public Health

Worksite Wellness

Gateway to a healthy Kentucky

