

Juvenile Confinement for Status Offenses or Technical Violations Varies by State

Share of youth held and rate by offense type, 2015

* Percentage based on small sample (more than 19 but fewer than 100 juveniles in confinement).

Note: Status offense and technical violation confinement rates are the number of youth held for these violations per 100,000 individuals age 10 through the upper age of original juvenile court jurisdiction in each state. Some states with low confinement rates rank high on this list because large proportions of their confined youth are charged with status offenses or technical violations.
