Tips for Writing a Letter to the Editor

- Be brief: Keep the letter short and to the point. A good rule is to keep them under 200 words. Be sure to check any specific requirements for the newspaper where you are submitting your letter.
- Include contact information: Many papers will not print letters if contact information is not included.
- Be timely: Respond to a piece that has been printed in a timely manner -- within a week if possible.
- Read: Read other examples of letters that have been published to give you an idea of length and style.
- Be creative: New viewpoints and ideas are more likely to be printed than repeating what has already been said on a topic.
- Be factual: Use current and correct facts and statistics. However, don't overload reader with too many. Use the most important one/s available.
